The next declamation, "A Fire at Sea," by Master Heymann, was one of the beat of the evening. Master Heymannd is full of oratorical fire, and produced an electrical effect upon the audience.

A Wheeling audience never fails to appreciate its favorites. So when Mrs. G. B. Caldwell ease upon the stage bursts of enthusiasm were heard. The ballad, "A Mikmaid's Song," from Tennyson's "Queen Mary," was a happy selection, being well suited to Mrs. Caldwell's voice. Her voice was at its best. Mrs. Caldwell's voice. Her voice was at its best. Mrs. Caldwell has a rare and pure soprano voice, more like a bird's than anything we can think of.

The recitation by Miss Adelia Pollock was "Mark Twain and the Interviewer." The wonderful alacrity with which this young lady changes her voice is remarkable. Miss Pollock is an acknowledged elocutionist and is always appreciated. Such rare literary ability is uncommon in one so young.

The finale of the evening was an instrumental duett by Messra Boyer and Kellar, called 'Clicketty-Click." and was well named. The plano used was not first-class, which detracted somewhat from the harmony of the accompaniments of the songs.

We congratulate the members of the club on the success of the entertainment. The audience was in the best of humor, and the applause was genuine. The whole affair was an interesting one, not only for the character of the selections, but also from their excellence of performance. Prof. Dalzeli extended to the audience the courtesies of the club parlors.
